

Train for a new career

Project RENEW offers on-the-job training for unemployed workers in new career fields.

Project RENEW matches unemployed workers who are interested in pursuing a new career with employers who have full-time job openings. Qualified workers will receive on-the-job training for up to six months (or 1040 hours) to acquire the necessary skill sets. On-the-job trainees will be subject to the same personnel rules, working conditions and benefits as other employees at the same level, with a similar length of time and doing the same type of work. The employer must agree to retain the employee after completion of the training period and certify that all training wages associated with an agreement meet or exceed an hourly rate of $10.00.
